Subject: Windemere Proposal

I just got a call from Sally over at Windemere and she was wondering when we will be able to get the proposal to her. I told her it would be there by the 15th.

Bob

The figure shows a graphical user interface for an email system. At the top, there are four tabs: "Message", "Options", "Other", and "Custom". Below the tabs, the email header information is displayed: "From: Jim Rogers (Exchange)", "To: Shirley Johnston (Exchange)", "Cc:", "Subject: Question about the dimensions of the radio casing", and "Sent: 14/11/95 11:32 AM". The email body contains the following text: "Shirley, I wanted to confirm the dimensions are correct. I also wanted to ask you if the length of the radio design can be decreased by an inch so that we can use a new safety material? Thanks, Jim". The interface includes a status bar at the bottom with reference numerals 2300, 2305, 2310, and 2315. 2300 points to the bottom of the email body, 2305 points to the "Length:" label, 2310 points to the "Width" input field, and 2315 points to the "Height" input field.

Subject: Question about the dimensions of the radio casing

Length: 13" Width 4" Height 6"

Shirley,

I wanted to confirm the dimensions are correct. I also wanted to ask you if the length of the radio design can be decreased by an inch so that we can use a new safety material?

Thanks,
Jim
